Guide for Authors (Web Site)

Preparation of Papers. All papers must be in English, French or German. The manuscript must be prepared in some form of TeX such as LaTeX, AmS-TeX, and AmS-LaTeX.

Each manuscript is required to contain an abstract, clearly separated from the rest of the paper, which will be printed immediately after the title. In the footnote of the first page, the following information should be given: AMS subject classifications, key words and phrases. The affiliation(s) of the author(s) should be given at the end of the paper.

Formulas in the text should be written with the solidus or negative exponent; for example, a/b instead of $\frac{a}{b}$ and $(2a)^{-1}$ or $1/(2a)$ instead of $\frac{1}{2a}$. Also $\sum_{i=1}^n a_i$ and $\prod_{i=1}^n a_i$ should be used instead of $\sum_{i=1}^n a_i$ and $\prod_{i=1}^n a_i$, respectively in the text.

References should be listed alphabetically in the following style:

- [1] Cartan, H. and Eilenberg, S., Homological Algebra, Princeton, 1956.
- [2] C Serre, J. P., Faisceaux algebriques coherents, Ann. Math. 61 (1965), 197-278.

Submission of Papers. A PDF file of the manuscript must be submitted by e-mail to the Editorial Office: journal@math.tsukuba.ac.jp. If accepted for publication, the source file of the manuscript should also be sent to the Editorial Office.

Copyright. By submitting a manuscript to Tsukuba Journal of Mathematics, the authors agree that the copyright to their manuscript is transferred to the Publisher of the journal, Department of Mathematics, University of Tsukuba, if and when the manuscript is accepted for publication in Tsukuba Journal of Mathematics. The copyright covers the right to reproduce and distribute the manuscript by means of printing, reprinting, or any other means which is deemed appropriate by the Publisher, including electronic media, photographic reproductions, microfilms, or any other reproductions of similar nature, as well as translations. The authors reserve the following rights:

1. The right to use all or part of the manuscript in future works of their own, such as lectures, lecture notes, press releases, reviews, and textbooks.
2. The right to keep the manuscript, after it has been published, on any preprint server or the authors' Web sites for research, education, and other academic purposes.

Offprint policy. From vol. 40, free hard-copy reprints of the published articles will no longer be provided. Instead, each corresponding author will receive the PDF file of the article. Hard-copy reprints, minimum 10 copies, are provided upon the request and at the expense of the author.
